FRIDAY AFTERNOON, JAN. 12, 1883.

CHIPS.

A big rent will make a hole in a man's yearly salary quicker than a diamond drill.—Baltimore Every Saturday.

There is an East Indian lady in Paris who can talk in twelve languages. Fortunately she is not married.—Boston Post.

Many young men complain of the cost of courtship, but in the long run it is not so expensive as "seeing the boys."—Boston Star.

The man who is most envied and hated in a boarding-house is the happy fellow who is placed next to the prettiest girl at the table.—Puck.

It is said that every cold wave has a fountain head. The object should be to find that fountain head and put a dozen coal stoves around it.—Detroit Free Press.

"Did you ever run for sheriff?" asked Poots, of a Cumminsville man. "Only once," was the reply, "and I wouldn't then if there hadn't been two deputies with him."—Cincinnati Saturday Night.

It is the little things that fret and worry us. A three-year-old boy may keep a man in perfect misery, whereas no such trial would accompany the presence of his eighteen-year-old sister.—Philadelphia Quiz.

We often hear of a man, who began life with nothing, dying worth a million. Poor fellow! and he has got to begin all over again in the next world, just the same as the man who began life with a million and ended with nothing.—Boston Transcript.

It is refreshing to be hurrying home at the rate of nine knots an hour with an icicle hanging from each ear and have somebody stop you at a post upon which hangs a thermometer to prove to you that it is cold weather.—Syracuse Saturday Night.

Prof. Langley, of Pittsburg, discovered a black spot upon venus during her recent transit. American girls heighten their beauty by wearing a piece of black court plaster on the cheek, and venus is only following the fashion.—Norristown Herald.

A woman entered a saloon in Jersey City, kicked over the table, smashed a dozen glasses, shook her fist under the bar-keeper's nose and called him a fiend, and led her husband out by the ear. The bar-keeper from over the Rhine closed one eye significantly, and remarked to a terrified enstomer, "By chinks! maybe she vas mad aboud somedings—eh?"—The Judge.

The Reverend Whangdoodle Baxter recently met Jim Webster on Austin avenue. "What's de reason, James, dat I dosn't see yer at de church no moah?" asked Whangdoodle. "Bekase I wasn't dar, I reckon." "But why wasn't yer dar?" "I'll tell you, parson, perzacly how dat am. Eber sence I stole dem turkeys outen your hen-coop I has done lost all confidence in myself.—Texas Siftings.

THE BLUE LAWS.

The famous blue laws of Connecticut, about which so much is heard, are as follows. They were enacted by the people of the "Dominion of New Haven," and became known as the "blue laws" because they were printed on blue paper:

The government and magistrates convened in general assembly are the supreme power under God, of this independent dominion. From the determination of the assembly no appeal shall be made.

No one shall be a free man or give a vote unless he is converted and a member of one of the churches allowed in the dominion.

Each freeman shall swear by the blessed God to bear true allegiance to this dominion, and that Jesus is the only king.

No dissenter from the established worship of this dominion shall be allowed to give a vote for electing of magistrates or any officer.

No food or lodging shall be offered to a heretic.

No one to cross a river on the Sabbath but authorized clergymen.

No one shall travel, cook victuals, make beds, sweep houses, cut hair, or shave on the sabbath day.

No one shall kiss his or her children on the Sabbath or fasting days.

The Sabbath day shall begin at sunset Saturday.

Every ratable person who refuses to pay his proportion to support the minister of town or parish, shall be fined five pounds and five shillings every quarter.

Whoever wears cloths trimmed with gold, silver or bone lace, above one shilling per yard, shall be presented by the grand jurors, and the selectmen shall tax the estate three hundred pounds.

Whoever brings cards or dice into the dominion shall pay a fine of five pounds.

No one shall eat mince-pies, dance, play cards or play any instrument of music except the drum, trumpet and jewsharp.

No gospel minister shall join in marriage. The magistrate shall join them in marriage, as he may do it with less scandal to Christ's church.

When parents refuse their children convenient marriages, the magistrate shall determine the point.

Adultery shall be punished with death.

A man who strikes his wife shall be fined ten pounds.

A woman who strikes her husband shall be punished as the law directs.

No man shall court a maid in person or by letter without obtaining the consent of her parents: five pounds penalty for the first offence, ten for the second, and for the third imprisonment during the pleasure of the court.

HINTS TO THOSE WHO KEEP BANK ACCOUNTS.

[The following sensible hints to those who keep bank accounts are furnished by the Philadelphia Ledger.]

1. If you wish to open an account with a bank provide yourself with a proper introduction. Well managed banks do not open accounts with strangers.

2. Do not draw a check unless you have the money in bank or in your possession to deposit. Don't test the courage or generosity of your bank by presenting, or allowing to be presented, your check for a larger sum than your balance.

3. Do not draw a check and send it to a person out of the city, expecting to make it good before it can possibly get back. Sometimes telegraphic advice is asked about such checks.

4. Do not exchange checks with anybody. This is soon discovered by your bank; it does your friend no good and discredits you.

5. Do not give your check to a friend with the condition that he is not to use it until a certain time. He is sure to betray you, for obvious reasons. Do not take an out-of-town check from a neighbor; pass it through your bank without charge and give him your check for it. You are sure to get caught.

6. Do not give your check to a stranger. This is an open door for fraud, and if your bank loses through you it will not feel kindly to you.

7. When you send your checks out of the city to pay bills write the name and residence of your payee, thus—Pay to Jno. Smith & Co., of Boston. This will put your bank on its guard, if presented at the counter.

8. Don't commit the folly of supposing that because you trust the bank with your money the bank ought to trust you by paying your overdrafts.

9. Don't suppose you can behave badly in one bank and stand well with the others. You forget there is a Clearing House.

10. Don't quarrel with your bank. If you are not treated well go somewhere else, but don't go and leave your discount line unprotected. Don't think it unreasonable if your bank declines to discount an accommodation note. Have a clear definition of an accommodation note—in the meaning of a bank, it is a note for which no value has passed from the endorser to the drawer.

11. If you want an accommodation note discounted tell your bank frankly that it is not, in their definition, a business note. If you take a note from a debtor with an agreement, verbal or written, that it is to be renewed in whole or in part, and if you get that note discounted, and then ask to have a new one discounted to take up the old one, tell your bank all about it.

12. Don't commit the folly of saying that you will guarantee the payment of a note which you have already endorsed.

13. Give your bank credit for being intelligent generally and understanding its own business particularly. It is much better informed, probably, than you suppose.

14. Don't try to convince your bank that the paper or security which has already been declined is better than the bank supposes. This is only chaff.

15. Don't quarrel with a teller because he does not pay you in money exactly as you wish. As a rule, he does the best he can.

16. In all your intercourse with bank officers treat them with the same courtesy and candor that you would expect and desire if the situations were reversed.

17. Don't send ignorant and stupid messengers to bank to transact your business.

The Grave of the Author of "Home Sweet Home."

The Independent says: "Near Carthage in a lonely spot rarely visited, sleeps a wandering minstrel of our own times, whose one immortal song has been heard everywhere the English language is spoken. Like the roving singers of lovely Providence, many times he had nothing but his harp. John Howard Payne was a gay Bohemian, extravagant in taste, lavish in expenditure; living much, too much, 'mid the pleasures and palaces,' yet with a vein of sadness down deep in his heart. He died while holding the office of consul, and a plain marble slab, sent out by the Government of the United States, marks the grave of the homeless man, sixty years a wanderer on this earth, the author of 'Home, Sweet Home.' One winter he was without money or credit, and in London had not where to lay his head. He tried to quiet the pain of hunger and homelessness by looking in at windows and from the areas scenting good cheer. It was Christmas Eve; the snow fell fast, and the wind was sharp and keen. At one luxurious house the man stopped and watched the lighting of the Christmas tree. Its candles streamed brightly on the pavement, and among the evergreens he could see the red berries of holly, the toys and garlands and the pretty heads of children. They danced and clapped their hands while the presents where distributed, and the air rang with shouts, laughter and screams of delight. When the merriment had spent itself a little, one young girl went to the piano and struck up 'Sweet Home,' while the family joined in a rousing chorus. Was ever contrast so bitter? I have this from Mrs. Consul General Heap. Payne told it to her long after those evil days were past.

SKINNY MEN.—"Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures Dyspepsia, Impotence, Sexual Debility. $1.

A SPLENDID REMEDY FOR LUNG DISEASES.—Dr. Robt. Newton, late President of the Eclectic College of the City of New York, and formerly of Cincinnati, Ohio, used Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam very extensively in his practice as many of his patients, now living, and restored to health by the use of this invaluable medicine, can amply testify. He always said that so good a remedy ought not to be considered merely as a patent medicine, but that it ought to be prescribed freely by every physician as a sovereign remedy in all cases of Lung diseases. It is a sure cure for Consumption, and has no equal for all pectoral complaints.

Middletown Advertisements.

Wm. H. Moore & Co.

Having completed our Annex, we propose to tell you something about how we are arranging our store. Heretofore the goods have been so arranged that when we were very busy there would be confusion, because of having so many kinds together

Now, as you enter the store, you will find on the East side, extending the length of the first counter, Notions, Fancy Goods, Neckwear, Ribbons, Velvets, Velveteens and Plushes. At the next counter, on the same side, Dress Goods, Ladies' Cloths for Coats and Suitings, Silks, Satins, &c., and next to this (same side), is our Shoe Department, well stocked with Ladies', Misses' and Childrens' Shoes. On the west side front, you will find a large line of Cloths, Cassimeres, Kerseys, &c; and next to this (same side) is Ladies', Misses', Children's, and Gents' Underwear; also, a full line of all kinds of Gents' Furnishing Goods.

Now, the first goods when you enter the Annex, East side, is Ladies', Misses', and Children's Coats and Dolmans, and next to these is Men's, Boy's and Children's Clothing, in such a variety of styles that every one who wants can get suited; and on the north end is our Hats, Caps, &c. We find the second floor the best place of all others for our Carpet Department, for several reasons: first, the room is large, which is very necessary so that we can match carpets on the floor, that customers can see how they look before purchasing; and second, the floor can always be kept clean and the carpets not become soiled by showing.

We have merely mentioned the different departments, without reference to quantity or quality, but will say that all departments are full of seasonable goods worthy of your inspection.
